Livin' in a Dream

I'm living in a dream.

One from which I hope to awaken-

A dark nightmare which I hope to survive-

But if in this dream my life happens to be taken-

Still, I'll know that I'm very much alive.

Cozzy Coz

His name is Cozzy Coz. A 49 years young poet from Allentown's School of Hard Knocks. He's been writing since age 14. "I cry for peace, but most of the time I'm just left in tears". He was once asked, "Why do you write poetry?". His response..."because the paper listens when people won't". Coz loves to write and may love performing even more. He lives for how intently people listen to him when he's up on stage. His ultimate goal is to touch the entire world with his literary enlightenings. "Poetry is freedom. Liberation! Emancipation! Literary exoneration! Joy's jotted manifestation! Pain's written justification! Calm's whirl-winded aspirations! A scribed quest for an explanation! An encrypted yearning for reparations!" Peace!

Cobalt Poets Series # 619 ~ May 28, 2024