Waterflow

Like ancestral blood flows
Through generations

Rivers of water flow
Century to century

Tides and currents
Past to present

Wash, cleanse,
Build, destroy

What stories do
Tides tell us?

Which secrets do
Currents hide?

Listen to the message,
Lessons waters teach us

Hearken to the songs they
Sing—throughout eternity

Hermione Beard

Hermione Beard (first name pronounced Her-me-on) is an essayist, poet, and playwright specializing in musical theater and scripts for stage, radio, digital performance, and film. She is a member of BMI, an Associate Member of the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators, and a Student Member of the Authors Guild. Hermione is the founder of New Day Cinema and Stage, a collaborative support and networking resource for creatives developing meaningful stories that inspire positive personal, social, and environmental change.

Cobalt Poets Series # 720 ~ August 18, 2026