OIL SPILL

oil booms

the slick flow

of your lies

not yet extinct

the rainbow sheen

of another oil spill

tarball

at the wrack line

plover tracks

morning gray

a great blue heron

in the oil-soaked marsh

stench of sulfur

tar-marbled sand

near the nesting site

profits

the oil-slicked wings

of gulls

pipeline leak

a sanderling ignores

the beach closed sign

Deborah P Kolodji is the California Regional Coordinator for the Haiku Society of America and the former president of the Science Fiction and Fantasy Poetry Association. She has published over 1000 haiku and her first full-length book of haiku and senryu, "highway of sleeping towns," won a Touchstone Distinguished Book Award from the Haiku Foundation. Her e-chapbook of scifaiku, "tug of a black hole," is available as a free download from Title IX Press: https://bit.ly/debpk

DEBORAH P KOLODJI

Cobalt Poets Series # 508 ~ December 21, 2021 ~ PoetrySuperHighway.com/cobalt
"oil booms" first appeared in Haikuniverse (10/16/21) • "profits" first appeared in New Verse News (10/11/21)